SUMMARY

With a baccalaureate in mathematics, I have pivoted towards english as my chosen discipline for more linguistic proficiency. This transition mirrors my adaptability and willingness to embrace new challenges. Equipped with strong interpersonal skills, attention to details, and leadership abilities, I am adept at managing group work effectively. I am committed to pursuing opportunities that allow me to further develop my linguistic expertise while fostering creativity and innovation.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Seasonal customer service employee at a diverse retail store in my region, that sells a wide range of products: I Worked part-time during summers .
